PRODUCTION PRINT FOCUS

Modern Office Methods is uniquely qualified to provide fundamental training on production systems and advanced print controllers. These controllers are essential to production print operation and management.

Our Production Print Analysts have the distinction of holding Fiery Professional and Expert certifications as well as certifications in Adobe Creative Suite and related prepress applications. This advanced experience and knowledge base serve as a prerequisite to the training offerings bundled with each production system delivered.

Upon deployment, lead production key operators are provided instruction on the following subjects:

Paper Catalog Management. How to establish a paper library to optimize results on a wide variety of paper media (coated, glossy, heavy, textured, satin label, poly stocks).

Color Engine and Print Controller Calibration. How to regularly maintain a color benchmark of the color engine and then creating color calibration profiles which sync to the engine. This will allow key operators to produce and match intended colors while maintaining a consistency across production runs.

Color Matching. How to set up spot color libraries. Printing color test patterns, so that colors can be selected for spot color matching to logo, custom colors and/or Pantone colors.

Custom Workflows. Key operators will be assisted and learn how to set up custom workflows. These workflows can then be converted to presets or even Hot Folders which will significantly impact production efficiencies on future like production runs.

Additional component detailed overviews are integrated with this training so there is an understanding of the maximum specification capabilities. This understanding will allow key operators to better meet production deadlines, pre-plan, and manage print centers.

Any additional custom workflows are welcome! Workflows can be outlined with our Production Analysts to determine the best and most ideal way to run desired production runs.
